

To whom it may concern

I have been dealing with Fairlane agencies for many years now. I can say I am very happy with the service I receive. I rarely have issues with orders not being delivered, and if I do it is sorted out quickly and professionally. If I ever have a problem or need support, I have being attended to with good feedback and the problem being sorted in a timely manner. I have no issue with the agency and happy with any accounts that they might take over in the future.

Yours sincerely
